

7th International Congress on Mountain and Steep Slope Viticulture | UTAD

The 7th International Congress on Mountain and Steep Slope Viticulture

12, 13, 14th May 2022

(Save the date)

Call for papers

“Extreme viticulture: from cultural landscape to economic and environmental sustainability”

VILA REAL, PORTUGAL

The 7th International Congress of Mountain and Steep Slope Viticulture will take place in May 2022 and will be the most important opportunity, following the pandemic crisis, to update scientific, research and technical innovations in viticulture and oenology for mountainous regions. It will be also an opportunity to get to know one of the most stunning wine-growing regions in the world.

The themes for the Scientific Sessions carry forward those of the event planned for 2019:

Thematic Scientific Sessions:

I – Maintaining sustainability and landscape in steep slope vineyards

II – Mountain and steep slope vineyards: improving agronomic practices via new technologies

III – Quality-enhancing factors for wines

IV – Mountain and steep slope vineyards: people, history, economics and culture

New deadlines for call for papers, submission, payment, etc., are already at your disposal on the official congress website. Please visit it a.s.a.p., reserve the dates and check for updates! We count on your presence!

<https://viicongresscervim.utad.pt/>

Congress Secretary:

University of Trás-os-Montes e Alto Douro / School of Agrarian and Veterinary Sciences

Email: viicongresscervim@utad.pt